Armory Dedication

Governor, Gen. Dean Due

C Battery's Open House March 18

Governor Goodwin Knight and and Gen. William F. Dean head the list of notables expected in Centerville March 18 for the dedication of C Battery's National Guard Armory.

This was announced today by Capt. O. J. Beaudin, commanding C Battery, which is part of the 629th Field Artillery.

Capt. Beaudin's unit was established here last August with less than 20 men and now numbers almost 60—two-thirds of its authorized strength. The battery has finished remodeling the armory at the end of Alder avenue, north of Centerville, and is anxious to show off its new quarters.

An open house to which the entire Township is invited will be held starting at 8 p.m. on March 18, a Thursday. Governor Knight, General Dean—hero of Korea—and other notables are scheduled to speak. C Battery and several of its sister units will parade in their honor.

Acceptances already have been received from Maj. Gen. Earl M. Jones, adjutant general of the State of California; Maj. Gen. Curtis O'Sullivan, commanding the 49th "Argonaut" Division, of which C Battery is a part; and Brig. Gen. Charles F. White, commanding the 49th Division Artillery.

Also slated to be on hand is the famed Six Army Band, a 60-piece unit, which will play for the public before, after and during the ceremonies.

C. Battery currently is engaged in a recruiting drive, spurred by "Myrtle the Rabbit" and her progeny. Platoons which fail to meet their quota must tend Myrtle & Co. until they succeed.

Recent recruits include Vernon L. Roberts, Warm Springs; Kenneth R. Crosby, Orvil S. Haynes, Kenneth Mello Jr., Leon Mings, all of Newark; Francis W. Wells, San Leandro; and John R. Flores, Richard R. Martinez, Manuel A. Avila, Donnie Martin Jr., Albert G. Rodriguez and Charles L. Meyer, all of Decoto.

Chamber Pres. Bill Short this week named a committee to assist in the program. It consists of Romeo Brunelli, Louis Cardoza, Joe Shepherd and George Oakes.

The May 20 date is to meet a deadline set by State banking officials.

HIDALGO ELECTED

Township Chamber Approves New Member Setup, Avoids Dump Issue

With Newark and Decoto opposing the change, six other communities in this area voted to amend Washington Township Chamber of Commerce by-laws last week and throw membership open to anyone.

Niles, Centerville, Alvardo, Warm Springs, Irvington and Mission San Jose delegates voted for the plan, which was proposed last month by a committee chairmanned by Charles B. Snow.

Now individuals and firms may join the central body, which will be governed jointly by members and by nine directors—one from each town plus the president.

Formerly only the eight chambers of commerce could belong. Critics claimed this limited action and representation.

In other action taken Thursday, Manuel Hidalgo was named new president of the reorganized chamber, with Dan Irwin as vice-president. New treasurer is Ed Fabbri and Vernon Ellsworth will continue as secretary.

Hidalgo, former president of the Decoto chamber was proposed by A. E. Alameda. He was unopposed.

The plea of the East Bay Sanitation Co. official for chamber endorsement of its proposed garbage-and-trash dump southwest of Newark was tabled.

A. E. Alameda, Louis Cardoza and Allan Walton sugggested it is not the chamber's business to endorse "individual enterprises."

"Let's just wish them well and let them go," said Walton.

WHO'S EMILY POST? IRVINGTON ASKS GM

Don't be a wallflower—ask the man!

This was Irvington's motto Tuesday, as local chamber of commerce members voted to invite often-rumored General Motors to settle nearby.

The chamber's letter to GM listed the town's advantages, and advised the giant corporation its locating around Irvington would be "welcome," with special emphasis on the twin-railroad area northwest of Drisoll Road.

'ACRES DECISION IN JUDGE'S LAP

Adobe Acres homeowners today still were awaiting a Superior Court ruling on whether their residential zoning shall be upheld.

Judge Chris Fox is slated to render his decision this week. He is considering arguments by (1) John C. Houlihan, attorney for the Santa Cruz Portland Cement Co., which wants the planning commission's home zoning in the area reversed, and (2) Deputy Dist. Atty. Richard Klippert, who wants it upheld.

Both Houlihan and Klippert have threatened to appeal any decision to a higher court if Judge Fox rules against them. The planning commission and Supervisors acceded to homeowner pleas and zoned the tract west of Niles for residences last year.

H. C. Vandeventer Dies

Homer C. Vandeventer, 51, passed away Monday at his home at 108½ Belovera Court, Centerville, after a short illness.

He was a native of Elizabeth, New Jersey, and had lived in this area for the past year. He is survived by his wife, Norma, and was employed at Henry Miller Cleaners.

His body was shipped to Bailey Mortuary, Jackson, Michigan, by Chapel of the Palms.

NELL JESSEN DIES

Nell Esther Jessen, 65, native and lifelong resident of Irvington, died yesterday at her home. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Chris Jessen, sister of Mrs. George D. Rowe of Santa Cruz and Mrs. Frank Hurd of Palo Alto.

For many years Miss Jessen was employed as a secretary at Westvaco in Newark.

Funeral services will be held Friday, at 2 p.m. at Berge Mortuary, Irvington. Interment will be private.

STEEL MILL BACK TO WORK FRIDAY

Production halted last week by a fire at Pacific States Steel mill in Niles is expected to be resumed Friday or Monday, a company spokesman said today.

The big plant was idled February 22 when a short circuit ignited a huge motor which runs the rolling mill.

The spokesman said mill management hopes to resume operations on a full-scale basis, with approximately 400 to 500 persons employed.

Freeway Link Progress Said At Standstill

Little progress on the Eastshore Freeway link between Warm Springs and Mt. Eden can be expected this year, according to word today from State Highway officials.

James Spence, assistant district engineer, said in a phone interview from San Francisco that:

1. "Very little money" has been budgeted to buy land at proposed interchange (or cloverleaf structures). Thus no purchases have been made south of Jackson Street.

2. Little progress has been made on actual blueprints for the Freeway link. Thus no Freeway agreement has been negotiated with Alameda County.

Spence said he hopes his draftsmen will have the plans in shape sometime late this year. He guessed purchases of rights-of-way on any scale will have to await more budget money from the State.

STEEL UNION SETS MEETING SATURDAY

Members of Steelworkers Union No. 3367 are requested to attend the regular union meeting to be held Saturday, March 6, in the Niles Theatre. There will be a special program.

Kidnap Suspect Pleads Guilty, Faces Sentence

Ralph J. Maria, arrested here February 15 for the kidnap-robbery of a young Niles girl and her date, pleaded guilty on three felony counts Tuesday in Centerville Justice Court.

Showing no outward signs of emotion, Maria spoke only at the prompting of his attorney, Deputy Rudy Michaels.

He replied "guilty" to two kidnap charges and one of robbery. A fourth alleging criminal assault was dismissed on motion of Deputy Dist. Atty. William Ahern.

Maria will be sentenced after an appearance in Superior Court at a date to be set.

Ahern explained the fourth charge was dropped (1) to avoid embarrassment of testifying for the girl, and (2) because the other three felony counts are sufficient to send Maria to the penitentiary.

NILES PARKING SPACES TO GET FACE-LIFTING

Fewer parking stalls along First Street will result in more parking space for Niles shoppers, a County Highway engineer told the Niles Chamber of Commerce Tuesday.

Jim Ward said county maintenance crews will start re-striping diagonal parking spaces Monday. He explained:

1. Present stalls are deemed too narrow, so that often "somebody parks over the line and a complete space is lost."

2. The new spaces will be a trifle wider, but will result in fewer lost spaces.

Ward said painting will start at H Street and will proceed eastward one block at a time, until the street is finished.

He added the parallel stalls on the north side also will be lengthened slightly, and that diagonal spaces on H, I and J Streets will be repainted as soon as minor repairs to the streets themselves are made, later this year.

HELD FOR TRIAL

HEARING MARCH 10

Centerville Prepares For Zoning, Raps Merchants As Parking Hogs

Parking and zoning problems occupied the Centerville Chamber of Commerce at its meeting Monday.

Members noted that the County Planning Commission will hold its first hearings on zoning the town next Wednesday in Oakland. President Bill Short urged every interested Centerville resident to be on hand for the 1:30 p.m. hearing. The Chamber has backed the protective move.

The area to be zoned runs from Santos Road to Decoto Road, and from Alameda Creek to the new Freeway.

Secretary LeRoy Broun says the plan to be submitted to the commission by its professional staff embodies the suggestions made by the Centerville chamber at a series of public meetings held here recently.

It envisions commercial building stopping at Thornton Avenue on the north and Central Avenue on the south. This brought suggested amendments from several quarters.

Speaking for St. James Episcopal Church, its rector, the Rev. Arthur Freeman, asked if the northwest corner of Main and Thornton, which the church owns, could not be zoned commercial.

And George Oakes, publisher, suggested that more thought be given to commercial zoning along Fremont Avenue, where, he said, "land is already selling for $200 a front foot."

Short recommended that such interested parties be on hand for next Wednesday's hearing. Broun said he understands commercial zoning will extend "part-way down Fremont," and also reported several firms want it pushed north from Thornton to Alder Avenue, since businesses already exist as far as that thoroughfare.

Turning to the problem of parking, outgoing President Romeo Brunelli criticized "merchants who disregarded our plea to keep their own cars off the main street." Said Brunelli:

"They park all day, and they take up more space than their customers do."

Eugene Manning suggested Short name a committee to study the problem and make recommendations, and this Short promised to do.

Fred Richardson, manager-designate for the Berkeley Savings & Loan Association, said his institution plans to build a large free parking lot at the rear of property recently purchased for a branch, just south of Chapel of the Palms. Richardson suggested this might help relieve congestion.

He said the lot would be primarily for the convention of customers of the branch, but that the general public would be allowed to park there.

SCIENCE FICTION? NOT AT W.U.H.S.

Youthful Einsteins and Pasteurs of this region will have their day March 11 at Washington Hi's first Science Fair.

A $100 cash scholarship donated by local VFW posts will reward the winning test-tube jugglers. Groups and individuals may vie for the prize. and their laboratory projects will be judged by a committee including Dr. Will Lamoreux of Niles.

The four top boys and girls will be sent by the PTA to the Bay Area Science Fair in San Francisco April 23.

Ted Wallace is chairman of the fair, with Faculty members Milton Seibert, Stebler Loze and Jim Crawford sponsoring the Advanced Science Club, of which Joe Silva is president; and the Frosh-Soph Science Club, under Mal Dickerson.

ZONING HEARINGS FOR NILES, MSJ

Dates for hearings on protective zoning requested in Niles and Mission San Jose probably will be set Monday by the County Planning Commission.

First hearing on Centerville zoning will be held in Oakland Wednesday afternoon.

Also slated for consideration Monday is a date for hearings on rezoning Irvington, which is currently under 1947-vintage rules. At the Monday session, the commissioners also will decide whether to act now on requests by Allan Hirsch to zone property on Broadway for business, or to wait and include it in the overall rezoning.

NILES CANYON CRASH FATAL AS AUTOIST HITS TREE

Theodore Duckworth, 42, died early Friday when his car smashed into a huge sycamore tree on the Niles Canyon Road.

He was identified as a San Leandro furniture company employe.

Duckworth was riding alone about 9 a.m. when the crash took place about one miles west of Sunol.

Ambulance and wrecking crews labored for half an hour to drag the still-breathing victim from the wreckage.

Duckworth succumbed en route to Fairmont Hospital.

The motor of his light sedan was pushed back almost into the drivers' seat by the impact.

James V. Dotoli, 34, Meno Park bartender, was killed early Monday night when his car skidded on the east approach of the Dumbarton Bridge, plowed through 50 feet of railing, and plunged into six feet of water.

The auto landed upside down. Officers said Dotoli was traveling at a high rate of speed

In serious condition at Providence Hospital, Oakland, is Billie L. Gage, 33, 47 Stewart Avenue, San Jose, who was injured late Tuesday afternoon when he drove his car into the side of an S. P. tender at Central Avenue and Southern Pacific tracks, Newark.

He was taken to Highland hospital Oakland, and transferred to Providence Wednesday afternoon.

WOOD SETS JET MARK AT MODEL MEET

Don Wood of the Newark Model Busters set a new "WAM" jet speed record at the Second Annual Winter Model Airplane Contest held Sunday at the Washington Union High School grounds. His model jet reached a speed of 136.93 miles per hour.

Don has been jet champion of Northern California for the past two years. Clifford Andrus of Newark won the endurance event of the day when his plane completed 411 laps, staying in the air for 48 minutes, 18 seconds.

More than 3000 spectators witnessed the contest which drew enrants from model airplane clubs from all over northern California. The next meet will be held in Napa, May 16.

Newark will again be host in September for the big U-Control contest. This event is sponsored annually by the local Knights of Pythias.

Dwain Wood, senior president of the Model Busters, wishes to thank all who made Sunday's meet a success, particularly "Pop" Gould for the use of the High school field.

WORK STARTS SOON ON NILES SCHOOL

Work is expected to start before April 1 on the second Niles grammar school, Supt. E. D. Bristow announced today.

Last Wednesday an Oakland firm, Drysdale Construction Co., was low bidder at $278,815 for the 13-classroom building east of Ellsworth Orchard.

Drysdale was granted 270 working days to do the job, which means, according to Bristow, that the school should be ready by January 1.

Bristow and architects Anderson & Symonds will journey to Sacramento Wednesday to lay final plans before the State Department of Finance, which is underwriting all but about $70,000 of the total cost.

Eighteen bidders vied for the contract, with estimates ranging up to $308,886. Last fall the architects guessed the school would cost about $324,000.

San Francisco has a city wide average of one branch public library for each 35,000 residents.

TESTING PITCHERS, HUSKIES LOSE 11-2

Testing untried combinations to prepare for their coming season, the Husky nine dropped its first practice game of 1954 last Tuesday to the San Lorenzo Hi Rebels, 11-2.

Coach Gene Johnson used four pitchers, Allan Olk, Bob Hird, Dave Hempelman and Al Hernandez, but none had the pre-season kinks out of their arms and the visiting Rebels clobbered them freely and impartially. Hernandez was charged with the loss.

Today the Huskies trek to San Jose to take on the formidable State frosh, and on Friday they will seek revenge on the Rebels in San Lorenzo.

How to simplify the job of painting your barns

You can save all the work of mixing colors if you use Standard Shingle Stain to coat barns or any other unpainted exterior wood surfaces, such as fences and lattice work. It comes, ready to use, in three colors, red, brown and green.

Standard Shingle Stain penetrates, seals the wood pores against dampness and stops cracking and warping. Unlike heavier paints, it will not form ridges on shingle butts to retard water runoff.

Apply Standard Shingle Stain with a brush or by spraying. New shingles can be dipped. Depending on dryness of wood, 1 gallon covers 90 to 125 square feet.

GOOD-BYE, MAC

Mac is gone, and we all miss him.

Mac had been around a long time. In a country newspaper shop, he knew 'most all the answers. To a green hand, starting newspapering on his own, Henry McMahan was a Godsend.

When the going was rough, he smoothed it out. When somebody popped up with a complicated job, Mac knew just where to look for the solution. To a stranger in a strange town, he had always a kindly word of advice. He took such pride in his work that he would never let an inferior or a makeshift piece leave the shop. That was his proudest claim.

Now Mac is gone. For the last few months he must have been in pain, but he was proud, and he seldom let on. All of a sudden, his body got the best of his stubborn spirit.

To the last, he hoped to come back to The Register, which had played such a part in his life, and which he had seen over so many hurdles. The dice fell the other way.

So to our friend, all we can say now is that we'll try to keep the paper something Mac would be proud of, and to carry a little of his striving for perfection into its future doings.

SO THERE, MR. CLEMENS!

Departure of the water company manager in Niles threw our Weather Department into a tailspin. The guy owned the Township's only recording theromometer, and he took it with him.

This means we'll have to pigeonhole that popular feature, the weather, until we can find somebody else with a thermometer that puts the temperatures down on paper. Meantime we can reflect that the late lamented manager proved Mark Twain wrong: somebody finally DID something about the weather we all talk about. He dropped the Iron Curtain on it.

THE NEXT STEP

We take some satisfaction in the news that the Township Chamber of Commerce is to be reorganized on what we consider a more democratic basis. This newspaper has always looked on the central chamber as something that could do the Township more good than anything else, if it only would.

Now that inter-town jealousies have been forced into a back seat, Townshippers in all walks of life have a chance to use the chamber as a strong voice in the stress-haunted days to come.

Therefore we say: let them use it. Let the chamber directors set dues low enough for every Tom, Dick and Harry to join. Let's put on a sincere selling campaign to attract every civic-minded man and woman, every progressive firm and factory into the new chamber.

Then the Township Chamber really can be the Township's voice. With this kind of backing, Washington Township can reach the heights.

Who said the sky's the limit?

JUST A SUGGESTION

The Puerto Rican terrorists raised pluperfect Hades with their pistols in Congress, and we wonder why—with all the exasperations Congress has wreaked on long suffering Americans, that visitors in the gallery haven't been frisked before?

As usual, the gunmen potshot all the wrong people. We could have given them a selected list, if they were determined to use the bullet to supersede the ballot. Come to think of it, maybe now would be the time to have Senator McCarthy investigate Puerto Rico.

ALVISO VOTES TO JOIN UNION DIST.

By an unofficial total of 136-14, the Alviso District last Saturday voted to join the Union Sanitary District.

The vote means 5520 acres will annex to the USD, virtually doubling the size of the district.

Next step is for the district to construct sewer mains into the area, according to USD Chairman George Coit. These are estimated to cost about $300,000, and will be paid either by tax or bond issue.

The Decoto Sanitary District, overburdened by its boom in population, is seeking information on joining the USD.

Uniform Salaries?

Uniform salaries for teachers in Washington Township, to avoid "pitting districts against each other" were advocated here Monday by Dr. Oscar E. Anderson, finance expert of the California Teachers' Association.

Dr. Anderson spoke at a workshop for school boards called in Newark by the Township teachers' association.

No Fire Balloting

Lack of opposition for fire commissioners in three Township communities means there will be no need to hold elections on April 5.

No other candidates appeared against Commissioners Tony Alves, Niles; Carl Zwissig, Decoto; and Tony Martin, Newark, as deadline for filing passed last week.

Commissioners in other towns are named on a lifetime basis by the Board of Supervisors.

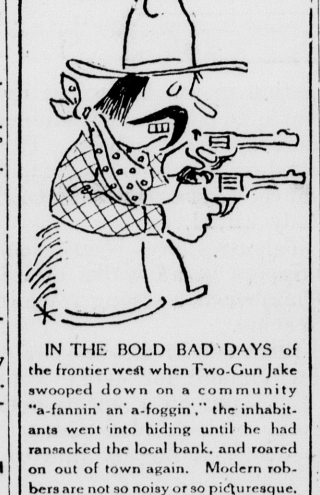
P. O. CLERK JOB

Postmaster Lois Bottenberg announces applicants are sought for the job of postal clerk in Mission San Jose. Candidates, who should reside in the community, are urged to contact her at the Postoffice.



IN THE BOLD BAD DAYS of the frontier west when Two-Gun Jake swooped down on a community "a-fannin' an' a-foggin'," the inhabitants went into hiding until he had ransacked the local bank, and roared on out of town again. Modern robbers are not so noisy or so picturesque, but their activities are just as much a risk as ever.

Burglary insurance protects against the money loss occasioned by the visits of Two-Gun's decendants.

Niles' chamber of commerce wants a boiled-down report on Township Chamber reorganization before resuming its part in the central organization.

President Howard Mitchell on Tuesday deferred naming a director and delegate to the revamped Township Chamber. He said he wants a report next week from his member who served on the the committee which drew up revised by-laws.

Niles has refused to pay dues to the central chamber since the first of the year because it was dissatisfied with Township Chamber operations under the old setup.

Napa County had 1496 farms in 1950, according to the Census.
